Progressives of State, fighting Party Organization Dominated by Interests

BOULDER GREETES STEWART

Candidate Outlines Position of Followers in Enthusiastic Speech

Special to The Gazette.

BOULDER, Colo., July 28.—The Curran opera house was packed here tonight by Republicans, who listened to the addresses of Stewart, Vincent, Griffith and Carlson. Vincent hit the recent judicial proceedings in Denver, wherein the editors of an afternoon paper were found guilty of contempt, several times.

Stewart outlined the position of the Progressives in the campaign in a speech that bristled with enthusiasm. He said in part:

"It has been rather plainly stated that our fight is inside the party and outside the machine. We are waging no war against the Republican party, but we are making our fight against the machine which has held it, and today holds it, absolutely in its power. I am in favor of a stringent, comprehensive corrupt practice act. This will represent one of the methods which will give us legal power to reach the vicious manipulations of the corporations. More than this, I favor the recall of all elective officials and members of important commissions who hold office by appointment. By this means we will be able to exercise a check upon the operations of the machine manipulator, and second, of the corrupt official manipulated by this machine too.

Political Vagrants.

The ordinary political agent of a corporation, as you know, is a political vagrant, or one without visible means of support. You can trace his work from the office of the corporation to the party central committee, to political caucuses, to conventions, and then into the legislature, which passes bills for the benefit of special interests; beyond this, in subsequent years, the agent who signs such bills at the behest of such corporations, and so on down the line, the trail leads. All this work ordered done and accomplished by these corporation agents costs money, and you people of Colorado are the ones who pay for it. When public utility corporations receive valuable franchises free of cost, when great corporations are assessed a less amount in proportion than the humble home owner, and when certain laws are passed which grant special privileges to the few, you can make up your mind that the sum total of this cost is not paid by these corporations, but is paid indirectly by the people.

In Colorado the question of big business in politics has been especially perilous. The bipartisan Guggenheim-Speer forces have been vicious and insolent in their treatment of the citizenship of the state. Today neither Republicans nor Democrats control their party; and, as a result, the people do not direct their state government. The Guggenheim machine controlled the last Republican convention, and the Speer machine controlled the last Democratic state convention. The two machines were lubricated and engineered and driven by the corporations of Colorado, aided by strong national corporations.

AT MANASSAS

"UNCLE SAM" DOWN ON FAMOUS BATTLEFIELD

After Covering 925 Miles Honeywell Descends for Fear of Ocean

MANASSAS, Va., July 28.—"Uncle Sam" proved a winner again today when the balloon of that name, piloted by Capt. H. E. Honeywell of St. Louis, landed here in the early dawn near the historic Bull Run battlefield, having defeated all other entries in the elimination race from Kansas City to decide which three American balloons should take part in the international balloon contest to start from Stuttgart, Germany, October 26, for the James Gordon Bennett trophy.

Captain Honeywell and his aide, Roy F. Donaldson, spent 35 hours in the air, and, as the crowd flies, covered a distance of 925 miles. They alighted on the farm of John Lewis at 5 o'clock this morning.

Ocean Too Near for Comfort. "A storm which overtook us in our eastward race and the fact that we were approaching the Atlantic ocean drove us to earth," said Captain Honeywell. "We could have remained in the air all day and if conditions had been favorable, I believe would have established an American record. But when it began to rain and with a storm surrounding us, we were afraid we might be blown out over the ocean."

Allowing for the fact that their course from Kansas City to Manassas was roughly in the shape of a crescent, the airman estimated they sailed more than 1,200 miles.

It was the captain's one hundred and seventy-fifth trip in a balloon, his first venture into cloudland having been made 12 years ago. His longest previous journey was 870 miles. Roy Donaldson had never been up in the air before with Captain Honeywell. As the latter is allowed to choose the aide he will take with him to Germany, he inferred strongly that it would be Donaldson. Whether he will take the "Uncle Sam" or another balloon he did not know.

His Most Interesting Trip.

"Despite the fact that I have made many balloon trips," he said, "this was in some respects the most interesting I ever made. We had no untoward incidents although we were close to storms both Saturday and Sunday nights with lightning playing around us and thunder sounding like a dozen battles rolled into one."

Neither Captain Honeywell nor his aide had a wink of sleep during the 25 hours they were in the balloon. The balloon chart showed that after leaving Kansas City the "Uncle Sam" sailed off to the north until it reached the north central part of Iowa; then it started eastward, keeping across the northern part of Illinois and Indiana; thence southward across Ohio and through West Virginia and over to the mountains into Virginia. The highest altitude reached was 11,000 feet.

KANSAS CITY, July 28.—"America will be represented in the international balloon race in Germany this fall by the bags Uncle Sam, Kansas City II and Drifter," said George M. Meyers, president of the Kansas City Aero club, when informed that the Uncle Sam had landed today at Manassas, Va., 425 miles from Kansas City.

The Drifter, representing the Cincinnati Aero club, landed at New Berlin, Wis., a distance of 426 miles, shortly before noon yesterday.

Governor of Arizona Goes With Unguarded Convicts on Long Hike

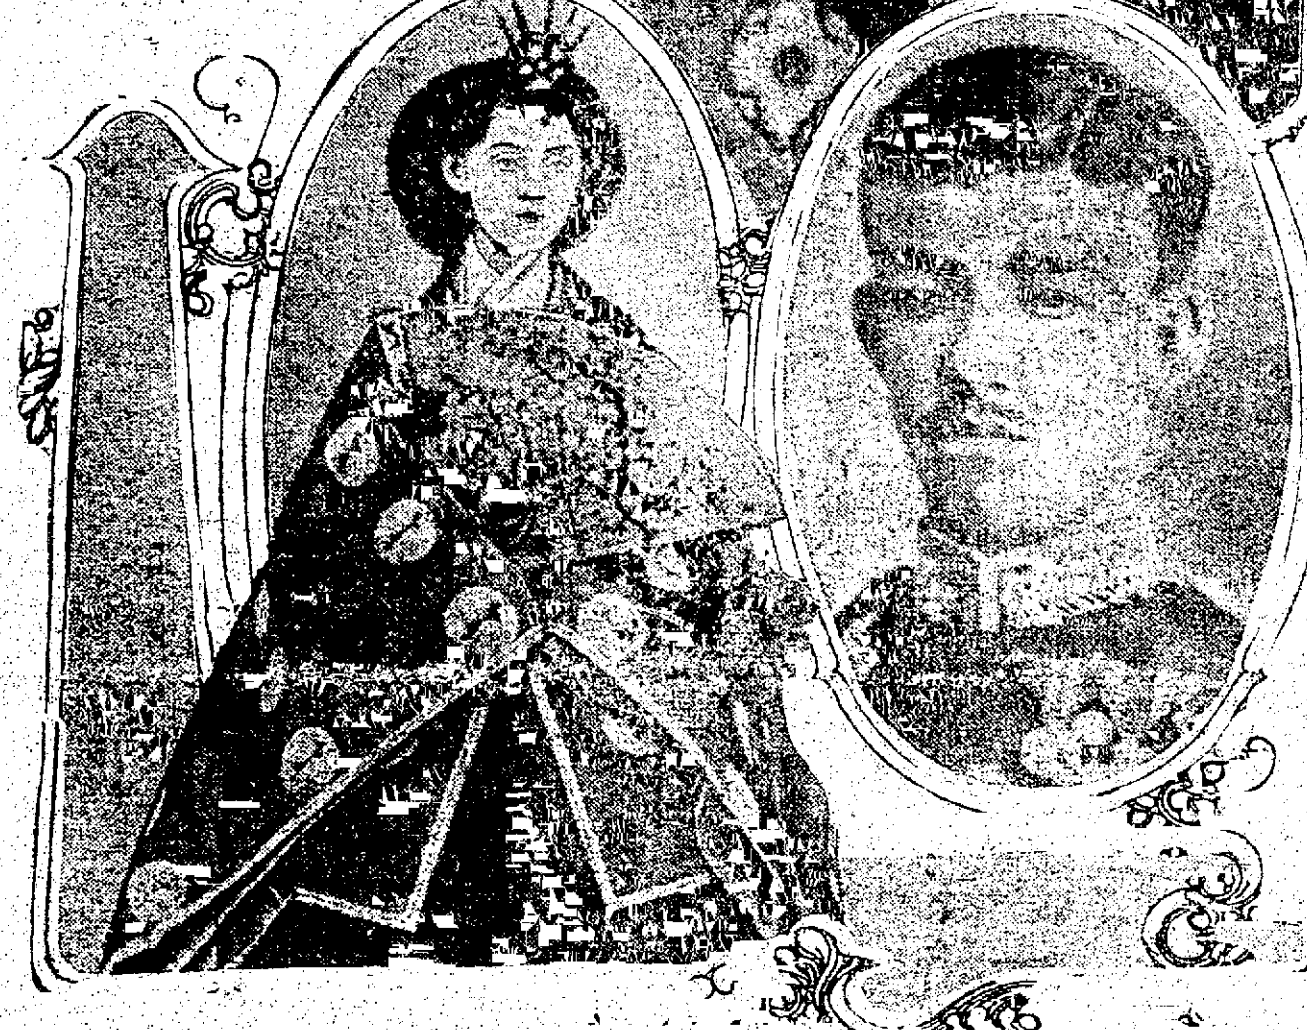

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 28.—Governor Hunt and R. R. Sims, warden of the penitentiary, with 21 "honored" convicts, left Ray today to walk to the convicts' road camp, 15 miles distant.

No escort or other persons accompanied the party, and the march is considered the most daring experiment of the governor's prison reform system. The party will camp tonight in the mountains seven miles from Ray. This party of convicts is to be added to 12 others, who are under the command of Engineer W. E. Marvin, and unguarded, will work for several months in the Pinal mountains, repairing the Globe-Ray road.

CONVENTION RECONVENES TO NAME NEVADA ELECTORS

RENO, Nev., July 28.—At a second state convention of the regular Republican party held here today, Thomas Nelson of Reno, W. W. Booth of Tonopah, and W. M. McCall of Elko, were nominated as Republican presidential electors for the state of Nevada.

The nomination of electors was omitted at the first convention of the Republicans because it was thought the state primary law required such nominations to be made at the September primaries. To make doubly sure, however, a second convention was called to supply the omission.

Mutsuhito was 60 years of age, and reigned as emperor for 45 years, during which time he brought Japan from a medieval feudalism into the front rank of modern world powers. Yoshihito, the crown prince, is 23 years old, an admiral in the navy, a hero of the war with Russia and a popular idol of the people of his country.

Hundreds of Frightened American Women and Children Flee Mexico

EL PASO, Tex., July 28.—Nearly 600 American women and children, matrons and babes in arms, hungry and worn out with fatigue and fear, arrived here today. They came on another special train of refugees from the Mormon colonies in the Casas Grandes district, 200 miles south of the United States border at this point. The train returned for more and still more are expected on another train due to arrive here early tomorrow.

That the exodus of Americans from Mexico will be thorough is evidenced by events today. There are already more than 800 refugees from the colonies in this city, and more than 2,500 women and children are contained in all the colonies directly affected by the rebels' demand to surrender arms or join the army of the Mexican rebellion. These refugees come from the three large and three small colonies, each with almost an entire American population. Dublin, with 1,200 souls; Juarez, with 800 inhabitants; Diaz, 750; and three minor mountain settlements with from 250 to 300 population each. This means, according to conservative figures given by the Mormon church dignitaries here, that more than 3,650 Americans in Mexico consider themselves in grave danger. Only the women and children are being moved, the men remaining, disarmed and helpless.

The epitome of the situation was sounded today by Enrique E. Bowman, Sr., prominent merchant of Colonia Dublin and high church dignitary. He appeared before a meeting of El Paso business men in the local chamber of commerce building, called to determine means to care for the helpless ones who flood this city. As Bowman, a large bearded man, began his talk, his voice broke and he wept as a woman. "We have endured inconveniences and indignities and loss," he said, "and now the condition has become intolerable. We could not fight, we had the women and children. I am going back, back to join my two sons." And the men's body shook with sobs.

He told how the rebels have begun to drink heavily and to threaten Americans, saying all who remained would be killed. "For many weeks the rebels on their horses have ridden on the sidewalks of our little settlements, and we have been compelled to take to the streets." Here tears flooded his eyes and his voice failed altogether. City officials of El Paso have housed the refugees in tents, and city and county physicians are attending the sick. Ranch people, the women are used to camp life, but their anxiety at leaving behind their "men folk" often occasions scenes of pathos. "I made me leave them," said one woman, referring to her husband and sons.

Tracks Torn Up by a Cloudburst Near Florissant

A cloudburst above Florissant about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon sent a four-foot wall of water rushing down the canon between Florissant and Divide, tearing up more than a mile of the Colorado Midland tracks but doing little other damage.

As soon as the water receded a section crew of 150 men was sent from Colorado Springs to the scene of the flood and by midnight the track was laid temporarily.

Four trains were held up by the flood. No. 1, a passenger train from the west, due in this city at 8 p. m., is being held at Florissant and probably will not arrive here until some time this morning. No. 2, the west-bound train, which leaves Colorado Springs at 4:45, was held at Divide until after midnight. The Wildflower excursion train from this city to Spinney was delayed at Florissant and arrived here shortly after midnight last night.

An east-bound special freight train was in more trouble than any of the passenger trains. It being tied up between two washed out bridges between Florissant and Divide.

Terminal Train Over Short Line. The Midland terminal passenger train, leaving this city for Cripple Creek and Victor at 6:15 o'clock, was detained by water on the Short Line on account of washouts on the terminal between Divide and Cripple Creek. However, it got through on time.

The damage was temporary, repaired last night and the track and roadbed will be put into first-class condition within the next few days.

DECLARE TREATY NEW RULER ON NOT APPLICABLE THRONES OF OPERATION PANAMA CANAL DOMESTIC PROBLEM

Right of Great Britain to Participate in Control Limited by Senators

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The right of Great Britain to participate in an understanding for the control of the Panama canal was denied in the senate today by two advocates of the measure to give American citizens shipping the preference in canal tolls. Senators Bradley of Kentucky, and Massey of Nevada, contended not only that the United States had the right under the treaty to regulate its own affairs, but the purchase of the canal zone removed the entire subject from international control.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota took an opposite view in his speech opening the canal debate. Senator Massey declared the Hay-Panama treaty as it stood could be ignored by the United States as far as the canal was concerned. The operation of that waterway had become a domestic problem, he said, and one not properly reviewable by any international court. Senator Bradley held that, even under the treaty, the United States simply had made the rules of equity which were to apply to all other nations. As the matter of these rules, and the authority at whose expense the canal had been built, he declared, the United States was bound by the restrictions of the treaty so far as it required "equal treatment" to all ships.

Senator McCumber, speaking against the provision for remission of tolls to American ships, said he believed such action would violate the spirit of the treaty with Great Britain.

Senator Cummins asked if the treaty with Panama, guaranteeing free passage of Panama's war vessels would be counted the United States to give free passage to the war vessels of all nations. Senator McCumber said he believed the strict terms of the treaty would require equal treatment to all war vessels.

Senator McCumber declared the treaty proposed absolute neutrality for the canal, but Senator Cummins said it was "impossible to conceive" that the United States should be compelled to leave through the canal, in time of war, the battleships of a hostile nation.

The fortification of the canal, Senator McCumber said, is for national protection.

"If we should publish to the world that we had fortified it as a war measure, and not for police protection," he said, "it would cost us 10 times as much to protect it in time of war as we would derive in benefit from it. It would become a source of weakness, not strength."

All nations would combine against the United States, he insisted, if it should attempt to close the canal in time of war to any foreign ships. The canal would then face the danger of destruction, he said, "the surest, the most certain, of some foreign power."

Senator Bradley said the American people would not have sanctioned the spending of $100,000,000 to build the canal had they believed they were to have no exclusive rights there. The pledge of "equality" to all nations, Senator Bradley said, meant that the United States would give equal treatment to all nations in the use of the canal, while reserving the right to protect itself.

The fact that England had entered her protest against fortification of the canal, Senator Bradley said, was evidence that she recognizes the right of the United States under the treaty to protect its own interests.

TRAIN STRIKES MAN

W. G. Miller, address unknown, was struck by Denver & Rio Grande passenger train No. 1 at 1:15 o'clock this (Tuesday) morning between the Rio Grande station here and the station at Roswell, sustaining a broken hip. The body crew picked the man up and took him to Roswell, where the police ambulance was called. Miller was taken to St. Francis hospital, where it is thought he will recover.

Roosevelt Compares Renomination of Taft to Election of Lorimer

OSTEN RAY, N. Y., July 28.—The renomination of President Taft by the Republican national convention last month was compared by Colonel Roosevelt today to the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate. The two cases, he declared, stand on the same moral plane, and Mr. Taft's nomination, in his opinion, can be defended only on grounds which would justify Mr. Lorimer's election. Had the Chicago convention been organized honestly, he said, there would have been a majority of over 100 against Mr. Taft. Colonel Roosevelt's statement was in reply to the administration's defense of the proceedings at Chicago, which was issued yesterday.

"I saw in the papers that Mr. Root said he would have voted for the Texas cases," Mr. Butler is said to have declared that he would have voted for the Washington cases," says the statement.

NEW RULER ON THRONE OF JAPAN

Emperor Mutsuhito Succumbs to Long Illness and Is Succeeded by Yoshihito

NEWS OUT WITHIN AN HOUR

Sorrowing Subjects, Contrary to Custom, Were Taken Into Confidence of Physicians

TOKIO, July 30.—Mutsuhito, for 44 years emperor of Japan, died at 12:43 o'clock this morning. Yoshihito, Haru-no-Miya, reigns under the formula provided by the constitution promulgated by Mutsuhito, "the king is dead; long live the king."

Mutsuhito, who was the one hundred and twenty-first emperor of Japan, passed gently away. He had been unconscious many hours prior to his death and the empress, the crown prince and the most prominent officials of the household and government were at the bedside.

Haruko, now dowager empress, yields to Princess Sadako, the young empress, who is the mother of Prince Yoshihito, of whom the eldest is Hirohito.

Dowager Empress Sadako has won universal sympathy because of her untimely visit to the sick room, which she continued continuously for 10 days. Even on the last day, she pitifully beseeched the physicians to secure a short respite for the dying emperor.

Desperate Efforts to Prolong Life.

Everything known to science was done to prolong the life of the emperor. The whole nation watched pathetically, because the death of the emperor would establish a new record in the history of Japan, and the people clung almost fiercely to the tradition with which the dying monarch indissolubly linked.

The outcome was inevitable from the start on July 19. Death was due to acute nephritis, otherwise known as Bright's disease. This was complicated by diabetes and intestinal affection. As is usual in such cases, the patient occasionally showed marked signs of nervousness, followed by a violent attack. Since July 25 the condition of the emperor gradually became worse, with high fever, weak and irregular pulse and shallow respiration.

Public Given True Details.

When the physicians recognized the hopelessness of the case, every preparation was made for the end. The imperial princes, the minister and nobles were summoned to the palace, and remained in the outer rooms for 24 hours. A few of the oldest, who have been closely associated with the emperor, were permitted to see him while the public, contrary to custom, were taken into the confidence of the physicians, who issued a bulletin hourly giving details of his progress of the disease. Even the last announcement, that of the death of the emperor, was made within an hour.

At the end upwards of 30,000 subjects silently paid their last homage outside the palace gates.

It was a marvellous scene when messengers silently mingled with the crowds and scattered announcements of the emperor's death. Deep emotion swept the multitude but there was no evidence of excitement.

Accession Ceremonies.

Within the palace, the death was communicated to the waiting imperial princes and nobles. The accession ceremonies were begun at the imperial sanctuary at 1 o'clock. The shrine was

DARROW ON STAND IN HIS OWN BEHALF

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—Clarence S. Darrow, on trial for alleged jury bribery, took the witness stand in his own behalf today, well toward the close of a session which began with the discharge of Juror L. A. Leavitt because of illness, and the substitution of Altemate Juror A. B. Balesley, and which otherwise was consumed largely by arguments. In the brief time he was on the stand Darrow refuted testimony by George Behm and Bert Franklin, which had been considered very damaging to his case.

The long-anticipated appearance of the noted lawyer-defendant in the role of witness came after a second futile attempt by the defense to get possession of the grand jury testimony of O. A. Tveitmo, the San Francisco laborer, and a successful effort to secure certain documentary evidence now held by the district attorney.

After several hours of oratory, and the placing on the stand by the defense of Assistant District Attorney W. J. Ford, the prosecution unexpectedly promised that tomorrow it would give

POLICE LIEUTENANT CHARLES BECKER.

NEW YORK, July 29.—After a late night session of the grand jury in which "Bald Jack" Rose, "Bridge" Webber and Harry Vallon are alleged to have made confessions directly implicating Police Lieutenant Charles Becker in the murder of Herman Rosenthal in front of the Hotel Metropole two weeks ago, Becker was indicted late today for murder in the first degree, placed under arrest and hurried before a midnight session of the court of general sessions.

After entering a plea of not guilty, Becker was taken to the Tombs. The gamblers whose statements are said to have caused the indictment of Becker, pleaded with the officials not to be taken back to the Tombs tonight, declaring they would be killed if returned to their cells.

The defense copies of any documents specifically named, and which were in possession of the prosecutor.

Want Telegrams and Letters.

Chief Counsel Earl Rogers of the defense said he desired any telegram or letters sent by Darrow between July 1 and December 2, 1911, to Samuel Gompers, John R. Harrington, Edward N. Nockels, Leo Rappaport and Frank M. Ryan, at the time, was secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and Rappaport attorney for the same organization. The documents were wanted, according to the defense, for the purpose of refreshing the memory of the witness, or to be produced as evidence in support of his testimony.

Darrow told of his reluctance in accepting the McNamara case, and the influence brought to bear upon him by leaders of organized labor, to defend the accused dynamiters, which finally resulted in his coming to Los Angeles. He narrated, in chronological order, his preparations for defending the brothers.

Asked about his relations with George Behm, uncle of Otis McNamara, Darrow said that Behm and Mrs. McNamara had visited his home in Chicago, where Mrs. McNamara complained of the manner in which her husband had been treated by W. J. Burns, the detective.

Asked Behm to See McNamara.

"She told me," continued the defendant, "that Burns, through his agent, Malcolm McLaren, had shadowed and followed her every place she went, and had asked her to go to Los Angeles, where Burns would provide her with a position."

"I told her to get what money she could from Burns, and I would give her the rest needed to make the trip. She said she wanted her to come with her because of her poor health, and Behm said he would come."

"I asked Behm to use his influence with McNamara to find out whether the stories printed by the newspapers, and purporting to come from him, were true, and said that if they were not I would defend McNamara along with the rest, if desired. Behm told me at that time that an uncle or a brother of his had seen McNamara in Toledo, and that McNamara had said he was employed by the National Erectors association. I have since heard this from another source."

"I had no conversation at any time with reference to getting McNamara to change his testimony," said Darrow emphatically, "and I never gave him any money for that purpose."

Refutes Franklin's Testimony.

Attorney Rogers then brought up the chronological sequence of the defendant's narration.

"Did you hear Franklin say here," he asked, "that the first time you ever spoke to him concerning the bribery of jurors was on October 5, and that on the succeeding day, October 6, you gave him a check for $1,000 for each juror?"

"Yes," was the reply.
"Was that true?"
"I had no conversation with Franklin," said Darrow. "Nor did I give him a check on October 6 for any juror. I did give him a check for $1,000 October 4, and I think I gave

PROMPT ACTION SAVES HIS LIFE

V. V. Van Nattay, formerly of New York, who is at present spending the summer in this city, had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon during the terrific rain storm. Had it not been for the prompt action of Mr. Baker, a driver of Stock's Quick Delivery Auto, Van Nattay would undoubtedly have died from exposure. His clothes were ringing wet. Realizing the need of immediate action, Mr. Van Nattay rushed to the city, not stopping until he had reached Stock's Cleaning and Pressing Parlors at 13 E. Kiowa, where his clothes were dried and pressed in 20 minutes. Mr. Van Nattay left the Stock establishment a different man. His health had been saved, to say nothing of his appearance, and, best of all, it only cost him thirty-five cents.

ASKS SUPREME COURT TO GIVE QUICK DECISION IN KANSAS ELECTORAL CASE

TOPEKA, Kan., July 29.—Governor Stubbs today sent a telegram to Justice Pitney of the United States supreme court urging an immediate decision on the Kansas electoral case. The telegram in part follows:

"Answering your wire of yesterday: There are now 15 Republican candidates for presidential electors who, according to two decisions of our state supreme court, have equal rights under the law to a place on the Republican primary ballots. A decision of the federal supreme court striking eight of these candidates for presidential electors from the primary ballot would take from the Republican voters of this state the right to choose between the 13 candidates for presidential electors by primary election."

"Our state primary occurs August 2. Owing to the meager equipment of our court printers who print the ballots in the remote parts of Kansas, the delay of the decision of your court one single day beyond Thursday, August 1, will make the printing and delivery of the primary ballots physically impossible. Therefore, to postpone the hearing even one day beyond Thursday, August 1, will deprive the Republicans of Kansas of the right and power to nominate Republican candidates for presidential electors as well as for governor and all state, county and district officers."

"In view of the tremendous importance of this case to the people of Kansas, I most earnestly request you to invite the chief justice and all the members of the supreme court to sit with you Thursday and hear this case."

TELLS OF TRUST METHODS OF REGULATING PRICES

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—When Robert Oxnard, president of the American Beet Sugar company, finished telling to the government inquirers the story today of how the American Sugar Refining company, and the H. O. Havemeyer interests had forced the Oxnard interests to sell to the trust half of the common stock of the concern, he turned, under the questioning of Assistant United States District Attorney G. H. Dorr of New York, to an account of trust methods in regulating the price of sugar and dominating its sale in the open market. His testimony dealt with the deal by which Havemeyer spent millions to corner the beet sugar industry throughout the country.

According to the witness, when the Oxnard concern came under trust control in the latter part of 1901, Havemeyer defied all of its sales under the agreement that made him the superintending agent of all sales from the Oxnard factories and refineries. The Havemeyers were to receive one-fourth of a cent each pound of Oxnard sugar sold. Oxnard sold through the Havemeyer brokers in Chicago and New Orleans and was given entry into the Missouri river territory. A letter was introduced in evidence by Dorr showing that on September 3, 1903, Oxnard wrote to Havemeyer for permission to enter the Texas field, stating that the output of the plants was so large that he could not get a ready market for all of it along the Missouri.

Other Letters Introduced.

Other letters were introduced, one of them showing that Oxnard had acted for Havemeyer in trying to induce other beet sugar companies in the west to come under the wing of the trust.

When Henry T. Oxnard was appearing in Washington, D. C., in the interests of the beet sugar firm in the tariff bill in September, 1903, Robert Oxnard wrote to Havemeyer and told him that the American Beet Sugar company was thinking of having the Havemeyer brokerage firm in Chicago represent them in certain deals, but that his brother thought that any connection between the names might be detrimental to him in his efforts at the capital. Oxnard was then supposed to be representing an independent firm.

It was shown by the witness that Havemeyer pooled all of the prices of the firms that had come into the trust, striking an average of the high prices set by some and the low price of others. A uniform schedule was arranged and put in force. Under an agreement a system of rebates was perfected and money was subsequently refunded to the small sugar companies. A territorial subdivision plan also was instituted. Oxnard persuaded the Colorado interests to ship their products to the Chicago market and leave the western territory to the refineries further west of Denver. That arrangement lasted several years.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY OF TELLER COUNTY SCORES G. O. P. MACHINE LEADERS

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, July 29.—The Progressive Republicans of Teller county, at an adjourned meeting here tonight, formed a National Progressive club and adopted the following platform:

"The Republican party, in convention assembled in Chicago, in June of the present year, in obedience to the demands of the trusts, and in open disregard of the wishes of the people, nominated, by questionable methods, William Howard Taft for president of the United States."

"John J. Macdonald, the Republican state chairman, has announced in the public press of Colorado that no delegate to the coming state assembly shall be permitted to participate in its deliberations unless he first shall pledge himself to vote for M. Taft in the coming campaign. This pledge we shall not take, as we do not consider that Mr. Taft is animated by a genuine spirit of Republicanism."

"We, the members of the National Progressive party, pledge ourselves to the support of the nominees of the National Progressive party, which is to meet in Chicago on August 1, 1912, and we do hereby instruct the delegates chosen by this assembly to vote for delegates to the said Chicago meeting who will use every effort for the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt for the position of president, he being the first man of the age, in courage, integrity, energy and devotion to the welfare of the people."

A committee of attorneys was named to devise ways and means for the formal organization of a third party in this county.

NEW MEXICO PROGRESSIVES NAME NATIONAL DELEGATES

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 29.—Today's Republican State Progressive convention, the first ever held in New Mexico, elected four delegates to the national convention to be held in Chicago. The delegates selected were John Baron Burg of Bernalillo county, M. C. De Baca of Sandoval county, Congressman George Curry of Otero county and ex-Governor Miguel A. Otero of Santa Fe county.

Fourteen of the 25 counties in the state were represented by a total of 13 delegates, while two counties were represented by proxy. Contrary to expectations the convention in its resolutions did not instruct for Theodore Roosevelt as the Progressive nominee for president. The resolutions declared for Progressive candidates for president, state and county offices, but made no nominations for these offices, nor nominations for presidential electors or congressmen, deferring such nominations until a convention to be held after the Progressive national convention is held in Chicago.

A state central committee representing the Progressive party was chosen. It elected ex-Governor Otero as president and empowered him to name his own secretary and executive committee. Harmony and enthusiasm characterized the sessions of the convention.

NEW RAILWAY COMPANY

DENVER, July 29.—Articles of incorporation of the San Luis Valley Railroad company were filed with the secretary of state today. The capital of the company is given as $1,000,000. J. M. Herbert, former vice president and general manager of the Colorado and Southern railroad, is one of the directors. The other directors are W. C. Leche of Denver, W. S. Freeman of Weld county, C. B. Munday of Hill county and J. B. W. Amsden of Joplin, Mo.

The object of the company, according to the articles of incorporation, is to build a standard gauge line of railroad from Center, Colo., connecting with the Denver and Rio Grande at Monte Vista and at Alamosa thence to Saguache. The road will tap a rich agricultural valley which heretofore has had no railroad facilities.

The headquarters of the company will be in Denver.

BAN ON "WIGGLY" DANCES

DENVER, July 29.—Wiggly dances will no longer be tolerated at the Denver Country Club. At a meeting of the board of directors, held recently, it was decided to put a strict ban on the "grizzly bear," the "turkey trot," the "bunny hug," and all other dances of like character. Saturday night at the regular weekly dinner dance an attempt was made by some of the members of the younger set to introduce the popular dances, but they were quickly suppressed, under threats of expulsion from the floor.

ARCHBALD MAKES FORMAL DENIAL TO IMPEACHMENT ARTICLES AGAINST HIM

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Sitting as a court of impeachment the senate today adjourned after hearing Judge Archibald's formal answer to the charges against him, without deciding if the trial shall go on this summer or be postponed until fall.

Judge Archibald, in answer to the impeachment articles brought against him by the house of representatives, formally denied to the senate that he ever used his office or his influence as a judge for profit; that he ever undertook for a consideration to compromise litigation before the impeachment commission; that he ever wrongfully used his position to obtain credit from fugitives before him, or

MISS DORCAS I. SNOGRASS.

CATSKILL, N. Y., July 29.—The body of the young woman found yesterday afternoon in Dehois creek near this village, was identified this afternoon as that of Miss Dorcas I. Snodgrass, a nurse who has been missing from the home of her sister in Mount Vernon since July 17. The identification was made by Fred Schmidt, the young woman's fiancé.

Many theories are advanced as to the events immediately preceding Miss Snodgrass' death and to the cause of death itself. Coroner Van Vandenburg has certified that "from circumstances surrounding the case the cause of death was drowning."

Local officials are inclined to believe Miss Snodgrass was the victim of that he had undertaken to carry in a general business for profit or speculation in coal properties as charged in the house indictment. None of the 13 articles of impeachment, Judge Archibald said, constituted an impeachable offense, a high crime or a misdemeanor as defined by the constitution. Judge Archibald admitted his participation in the now noted "Katydid culm bank deal" with Edward J. Williams of Scranton and the Hillside Coal & Iron Co., a subsidiary of the Erie railroad, which then had cases pending in his court, but he denied that he willfully or unlawfully or corruptly took any advantage of his position to induce the railroad officials to deal with him and his partner.

The accused jurist denied that he at any time for a consideration agreed to assist George M. Watson, a Scranton lawyer, to settle a case in which the Marian Coal Co. was complainant against the Lackawanna railroad before the interstate commerce commission. William P. Boland, and his brothers, Christopher and James, are principal stockholders in the coal company, and William P. Boland was the author of some of the charges on which the house judiciary committee reported articles of impeachment. In reply to the charge that he and his associates secured from the Lehigh Valley railroad a lease on coal dump, packer No. 2, owned by the city of Philadelphia as trustee for the heirs of the late Stephen Girard, reply was made that the transaction did not involve unlawful or corrupt use of his office. Some details of this article were disputed.

Denies Charge of Wrongdoing.

The judge denied that he used his office wrongfully to aid Frederick Warnke in securing from the Philadelphia & Reading railroad a lease of the Lincoln culm dump, or that he accepted from Warnke wrongfully a promissory note for $500.

The charge that the judge used his office corruptly or improperly to bring about the sale of the Everhardt coal lands to the Lehigh Valley railroad or the Lehigh Valley Coal company was claimed to be vague and its annulment was asked.

Judge Archibald denied that any time he had entered a scheme to buy stocks of a gold mining scheme in Honduras with W. W. Rissinger by indorsing a note for $2,500. Rissinger is part owner of the stock of the Old Plymouth Coal Co. He admitted having indorsed a note for Rissinger, but avers it was for the sole purpose of accommodation and benefit of Rissinger, and Rissinger later sent him certificates of stock in a gold mining enterprise as collateral securities for his indorsement.

It was admitted that the Old Plymouth Coal company was a litigant in the judge's court, but the note transaction had no relevancy to the judge's judicial action, and that in the court decision he acted solely on his judgment of the merits of the lawsuits presented. If the note was presented to John T. Lenehan, one of the attorneys in the case for discount, it was done without Judge Archibald's consent, the answer said. As to the $500 Jones note, which it was charged was presented to Christopher C. Boland with a request for discount for Judge Archibald while one of the Marian Coal company cases was pending in his court, Judge Archibald answered that he never consented that the note should be presented to either of the Bolands with a request on his part for discount, and that if such a thing were done, it was entirely without his knowledge.

As to the charge that the same note made to John Henry Jones was presented for discount to Charles H. Von Strach, president of a bank in Scranton, and a lawyer, Judge Archibald answered that he indorsed the note entirely for the accommodation of Jones and had no intention of improperly using his influence as a judge to induce Von Strach to discount it.

The charge that Archibald had received large gifts of money from Henry W. Cannon, a cousin of his wife and a director in the Great Northern railway and other corporations, was denied, though it was admitted that the judge made a trip to Italy at Cannon's expense. The judge avowed he had no information that any corporation in which Cannon was interested might come before his court.

PREDICTS VICTORY FOR P. B. STEWART

Great Gathering Will Attend Political Meeting at Temple Theater

In my opinion, said former Senator De La Vergne yesterday, the meeting at Temple theater next Monday evening will be one of the largest political gatherings held in this city in recent years. Phil Stewart is going to be the next governor of Colorado. The people are awake to the issues as he is presenting them and this thing of a few men handling things is done for. In my opinion, I believe half the people will turn out. The rank and file feel mighty grateful to Stewart for the fight he is making to dispossess and dethrone the machine leaders. We have all had enough of it.

This expression of opinion is universal all over the county and over the state as well. Letters have been received stating that parties would be here from Grand Junction and Denver will be well represented. There will be nothing select about the reception or the meeting—everyone is invited, and the poor man or woman will be just as welcome as the rich ones.

It is the general prediction now that Temple theater will not hold half the people and overflow meetings will be provided with speakers in the event this prediction is verified.

I want to talk to all the people who come," said Mr. Stewart Sunday, and if it is necessary, we will address the people on the outside as well as those in the theater. Give everybody exactly the same change.

RECEPTION TONIGHT AT COLORADO CITY LIBRARY

From 5 to 10 o'clock tonight the Woman's Study club and the Ministerial association will give a reception at the Colorado City public library. It is to be open to the public, and no admission fee will be charged. All who are interested in the benefits to be derived from the library are invited to attend the reception and become better acquainted with what is to be found on the shelves. Parents especially are urged to learn of literature their children can find there. The librarian, Miss Smelter, assisted by the members of the city library board will be ready to answer any questions and show any books or periodicals.

The reception committee for the evening will be as follows: Mayor and Mrs. P. J. Hamble, the Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Stuntz, the Rev. and Mrs. G. Clifford, the Rev. and Mrs. Calvin W. Dunan, the Rev. and Mrs. V. O. Poffley, the Rev. H. H. Brinkley, the Rev. Father John H. Brinkley. During the evening the following members of the Woman's Study club will serve punch and cakes: Mesdames Kinney, Burwell, Ellwood, Felling, Vanvard, Williams, Daniels and Boone. The following program will be given:

Piano solo Miss Rena Huns
Local solo Mrs. Ruth Dunan
Address The Rev. G. H. Stuntz

Violin solo Miss Luna Daples
Dramatic reading Mrs. Lillian Huns
Vocal solo Miss Lillian Huns
Piano duet Mrs. Hamble and Miss Hemenway
Vocal solo E. A. Kinslow
Piano solo Miss Anna Stuntz

CITY AND STATE WILL CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

The next two weeks will be crowded thick with anniversaries in the Pikes Peak region. Colorado springs will have been in existence 41 years tomorrow, Colorado will have been a state for 36 years the day following and Colorado City, too, will begin to count her years in the near future for her birthday is August 12.

As the stone post at the southeast corner of Pikes Peak and Cascade avenues shows, the first stakes of the Fountain Valley colony were driven there July 31, 1871. Just 36 years ago next Thursday Colorado ceased being a territory and became the Centennial state.

The summer carnival, the Shan Kive was originated last year partly to mark these two anniversaries and was a fitting celebration of the fortieth birthday of the city and the thirty-fifth of the state. This year, for many reasons, Shan Kive has been scheduled for the last of August and the two fete days will not be so elaborate. Thursday will be a legal holiday and the banks will close. To mark tomorrow in some manner the business men, and all others, are asked to fly American flags, as none have had time as yet to have their duplicates made of the municipal flag.

Lightning Strikes House; Loss $4,500

An unoccupied 10-room residence at the top of the Tenth street hill in Lywild, owned by Miss E. Massey, housekeeper at the Alamo hotel, was struck by lightning about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and burned to the ground. The loss is estimated at $4,500, and is not covered by insurance.

The efficiency of the fire department in answering calls was displayed by the blaze, the auto truck of Company No. 1 making the run from the central station to the fire in five minutes. The house was at the top of one of the worst hills in the region, but the truck climbed it easily despite the muddy condition of the roads.

Death and Funerals

The funeral of Moses M. Baldwin, aged 68, who died Sunday night at his home, 1412 Grant avenue, will be held at 10:30 o'clock this morning from the undertaking rooms of Hallett & Baker. Interment will be at Woodland Park. Baldwin had been a resident of the Pikes Peak region for about 25 years. He is survived by his wife, three daughters and three sons.

The body of Mrs. Sallie E. Wilkins, who died Sunday at her home at Rush, Colo., was taken to South Pittsburg, Tenn., yesterday for burial. She is survived by two daughters, the Mesdames Rhoda and Hetty Wilkins of this city, and three sons, John and Joseph Wilkins of Rush, Colo., and Marvin Wilkins of Chattanooga, Tenn.

REPUBLICAN JUDICIAL ASSEMBLY MEETS TODAY

The Republican assembly at the Fourth judicial district will convene in the court house this morning at 10 o'clock to nominate a judicial district composed of candidates for district judges and district attorneys. Chairman Charles T. Feltz, of the central committee, will call the assembly to order.

The assembly will consist of 10 delegates, 50 of which will represent El Paso county. The other delegates in the district are: Cheyenne—Douglas Elbert, Kit Carson—Lincoln and Elbert the El Paso county delegates will be: B. W. Giddings, W. H. Spurgeon, David Elliott, S. D. McCracken, George M. Levin, O. P. Grimes, D. K. Law, H. G. Lunt, I. L. Aiken, I. L. Curtis, H. H. Garton, T. C. Turner, W. H. Metz, C. W. Haines, F. R. Brooks, P. M. Kistler, R. S. Ellison, J. C. Pettigall, W. B. Price, Alex. Reibschied, Glen H. Logan, G. O. Feltz, D. Van Mispelaar, R. R. Bing, Ham H. M. Mason.

Judges Sheafar Morris and Little are the only candidates for the district bench and all of these have their petitions in circulation to be filed with the secretary of state.

The candidates for district attorneys are Dunbar F. Carpenter, Willis L. Strachan and F. J. Bouchillon of Cripple Creek. Strachan was incensed by the county assembly last week. Carpenter will make the race by petition.

Most of the delegates to the assembly have been instructed by their county assemblies to designate candidates, and it is probable this will be done.

New Princess Opens to a Packed House

Every seat was taken and there were scores and scores of people unable to gain admittance when the new Princess theater gave its first entertainment last evening. The first run of motion pictures began at 7 o'clock and the pretty playhouse, which is one of the most artistic and most modern to be found anywhere was crowded up to the closing hour.

There was nothing to indicate a first night show at the Princess last evening. The decorations still have to apply a few finishing touches, but the new playhouse in the view of the audience, is everything that could be desired.

The seating capacity of the Princess is 1,000, the seats are roomy and comfortable and arranged so that everyone enjoys an unobstructed view and an elaborate ventilating system automatically changes the air in the building every five minutes. On the first test the patrons of the Princess will find it a cool and comfortable retreat. The lighting scheme is admirable, and the interior decorations are not only expensive but unusually beautiful.

And just a word about the pictures. People who have the motion picture habit have a name that is more or less a guarantee that they will go to the Princess for the views shown on the screen last night surely were the final word in the projection of animated pictures. There is cleanliness, depth and absolute steadiness to the Princess pictures a generator changing the alternating current to direct and making it possible to keep a brighter and more steady light all the time.

The female orchestra of five pieces is also a feature at the Princess and the musical numbers under the direction of Nellie Todd, came in for a great deal of applause. "The Rosary," a cornet solo by Bertha Silsby, was so enthusiastically received that an encore was necessary. J. Ernest Tompkins, formerly of Denver and who is the local manager of the new playhouse, delighted his hearers with his tenor solo, "For I Dream of You," a selection from "The Alaskan," and was applauded until he responded with "Mine is the Love of a Thousand Tears."

A visit to the operating room explains the secret of the wonderful pictures at the Princess. The projecting machines are of the latest and most expensive type and added to this is the direct electric current and a staff of operators who are experts in their line of work. Pictures of the highest class shown by Mr. Tompkins and the women's orchestra will be daily features at the new house.

While G. H. Greaves of the Moore-Greaves Amusement company of Denver had the direction of the theater in charge credit for the completeness of the building in its many details is also given to Contractor E. E. Mahoney. Harry Dugue for the color scheme and the Standard Electric company of this city which installed the thoroughly modern electrical system. In the matter of lighting, the exit lights are on a separate circuit from that used for other purposes so that in case of any mishap the exit lights will not be affected.

An exhibition of character portraiture the equal of which has never been seen in this city is now on view in the drawing rooms of the Antlers hotel. The exhibit is made by Strauss of St. Louis and includes several examples in oil and water colors besides scores of excellent specimens of the photographer's art. This is the first time Strauss has ever sent an exhibit to this city and is made primarily for the purpose of interesting the public in the new color photographic process of the Lumiere Brothers of Paris. Eugene Strauss having had more than ordinary success in this process and exhibiting many remarkable examples. Sherman Danby, who has had charge of these exhibits for Strauss in all parts of the world, said last evening that invitations have been extended for private views during the entire week. The exhibit is the first time Strauss was made an officer of the French Academy of Arts an honor never before conferred upon an American. The oil examples are by Millet, of Paris, Olt and Gray of St. Louis and S. Schen-

LECTURE TODAY ON ORIGIN OF ROMAN ARCHITECTURE

In the archaeological lectures at Colorado college Prof. H. J. Wilson yesterday finished the subject of Roman architecture. Today and tomorrow he will lecture on Roman architecture showing by means of many fine slides, the development of Roman architecture from its beginning to the point of its highest achievement. The lecture today will be devoted especially to the questions of origins, materials and methods of Roman architecture. This development and use by the Romans of the Greek and Etruscan as well as of the Greek orders will be especially discussed.

Main 239.Burns Company Delights Crowded House in "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway"

A new epoch was recorded in local amusement last night when the Burns theater company presented "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," the first time in the history of Colorado Springs when a regular dramatic stock went so far out of its usual scope and if a theater full of enthusiasts is a criterion, then the initial efforts pleased greatly.

It would be an injustice to review last night's offering without giving the division attention to principals and the minor characters as well, for all did splendidly both in a dramatic and musical way, and, as a whole, the effort is most commendable.

As Kid Burns Malcolm Duncan could hardly be improved upon, surely not in the matter of acting, and as he acted effectively with the reading of the lines of the "Forty-Five Minutes" song, in the language of the street and that of "Kid Burns" himself, he was "all to the ready."

Justina Wayne was as dainty a "Mary" as one could wish to see, her dramatic portrayal was artistic, and while Miss Wayne cannot be said to be a vocalist, her two numbers were pleasing, indeed, and were favored with encores.

Florence Hart as Mrs. Purdy, did as clever a bit of character work as has been seen on any stage, and the large audience showed its appreciation of her conception of the different roles. Minnie Louise Ferguson brought vivacity to mind Lillian Russell in her characterization of Mrs. David Dean, the adventuress, and in manner, dress, voice and carriage is a close double to the noted actress of never-fading youthfulness.

Flora Dora Dean is as suited to Audra Alden as the proverbial glove, and was enviable.

As might have been expected, Alfred Cross appeared as a villain of the deepest red in the part of Daniel Cronin, and as was expected by those familiar with his work, gave the usual good report of himself.

Earle Gardner was very much at home as James Blake, and left no room for criticism of only the highest order. Mr. Gardner is a reliable, earnest actor.

A new member of the company, George Murdoch, made good at the very outset as Andy Gray, and his slight comedy brought forth much laughter.

Richard Carlyle depicted himself as a real millionaire, and his Tom Bennett was most acceptable.

The vocal hit of the evening was the singing numbers by Eugene DeBelle, and if the matter was left to the audience he would have remained singing until the last car went to the barn. Bartlett's dream song, "A Dream," was beautifully done, and Mr.

DeBelle was accorded an ovation.

The duo song, "When We Are Married," by Miss Alden and Mr. Carlyle, also brought them back under the spotlight several times.

A noteworthy feature of last night's musical was the chorus work of 16 voices composed to some extent by local people, and the chorus at the Burns this week will compare favorably with the road attraction choruses of similar number.

The scenic and electrical effects of this show is far above what one expects of a permanent stock company, and the Burns scenic artist, T. J. Marx, must have felt compensated somewhat by the applause which greeted two of the stage settings.

The Burns management, as well as the director, Preston Kendall, deserves the greatest praise for what was accomplished in "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," and it would be a most unlikely thing if the theater was not filled to the utmost capacity throughout the week.

MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR THE ZOO BARBECUE

A force of men will probably be put to work at the Zoo in a day or two, digging the roasting pits for the big barbecue next Sunday. The work will be rushed, as preparations will have to be made for the biggest crowd of the season at the feast. Some of the meat needed has already been ordered, and the rest will be arranged for in a day or two.

The idea of a big free feed after the ball game took with the crowd on the occasion of the clambake, and to judge from past years, will be more popular when a varied menu of meats is offered. Beef, pork and mutton will be the staples, but several other kinds of meat will be served.

CHILDREN INTERESTED IN CHURCH THROUGH FLOWERS

GRADLEY, Colo., July 29.—(Colo.) ways to keep children interested in Sunday school have been devised by the Christian church, one of which is to allow children to furnish all flowers for the church Sundays and arrange them. Last April the superintendent distributed 50 packages of sweet peas seed to the children. Next Sunday has been set aside as sweet pea day and every pupil will bring blossoms to the church.

and our own country. The styles, sizes and shapes in which these hats for men are made and trimmed is as varied as their origin and the time when a man had just one or two simple hats to choose from each season is passed. An economy in hats is affected by many men in the adjustable hat-band. Some men have a dozen hat bands for a single hat. They change them to match their neckties or for other reasons. College men like to wear their college colors on their hats, and when a bell goes is on between two rival college teams there is a demand for hat bands for the believers in each team.

At a recent exhibit in hygiene, held in Dresden, Germany, the results were given of some tests made as to the relative advantages in temperature of the different kinds of men's hats worn during warm weather. The Panama was registered at 77 degrees; the straw hat at 73 degrees; the soft wool felt at 56 degrees; the silk hat at 59 degrees; the cloth cap at 54 degrees and the racing cap at 58 degrees. These tests were made partially with a view to regulate the provisions for the uniforms of certain classes of police officers.

Vegetable Compound.

Swarthmore, Penn.—"For fifteen years I suffered untold agony, and for one period of nearly two years I had hemorrhages and the doctors told me I would have to undergo an operation, but I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am in good health now. I am all over the Change of Life and cannot praise your Vegetable Compound too highly. Every woman should take it at that time. I recommend it to both old and young for female troubles."—Mrs. EMILY SUMMERSGILL, Swarthmore, Pa.

Baltimore, Md.—"My troubles began with the loss of a child, and I had hemorrhages for four months. The doctors said an operation was necessary, but I dreaded it and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The medicine has made me a well woman and I feel strong and do my own work."—Mrs. J. R. PICKING, 1260 Sargeant St., Baltimore, Md.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, it is not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

NOTES FROM THE BURNS

This is matinee day. It's going to be a "bummer." Some good seats left, though. Do you know the number? Main 200. You must have heard the applause. It was deafening.

Before the end of the week the S. R. O. sign will be out.

"Better than the road show," was the verdict of the crowd last night.

Every singing number was cheered by the echo of a real singing chorus. Over 1,000 persons witnessed the first production of "Forty-five Minutes."

Today and Saturday are the matinee days. Any seat in the balcony only 25 cents.

Eugene DeBelle scored tremendously with his special topical songs; they were immense.

Regular patrons of the house marveled at the excellency of the song numbers by Miss Wayne and Mr. Duncan.

Four Colorado Springs boys are in the chorus: Fred Broeze, Nelson Brett, Duane Nelson and Cecil Rodgers.

Audra Alden and Richard Carlyle received an ovation on their rendition of "When We Are Married—Ed" song and dance.

Another "bullseye" hit was Mr. Carlyle's song, "I Want to Be a Popular Millionaire."

If such a thing was possible, Prof. William Pink added to his musical laurels last night with his augmented orchestra.

Probably never again will the amusement-going public of Colorado Springs be privileged to enjoy such a musical comedy as the present offering at the small prices.

Unlike so many musical comedies, "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway" is clean, bright, tuneful and clever, and there is not a word or situation to offend the most sensitive.

Our word for it, "The Prince Chap," on next Monday night, is going to be as distinctive a dramatic success as the city has ever enjoyed.

The balcony this afternoon will be open to patrons at 1.45, and seats may be purchased in the lobby independent of the regular box office window. This is done so as to give quicker service to all classes of patrons.

Promptly at 9 o'clock this morning the theater box office will be open. The parquette and dress circle seats are reserved at the matinee performance, the first named at 50 cents, and the latter at 25 cents. Use the telephone—Main 200.

THE SEASON'S MUSICAL EVENT

Such a remarkable attraction as the visit of Gatty Sellers, solo organist at Queen's Hall and the Crystal Palace musical festivals, London, cannot fail to cause much speculation as to what the program will consist of.

The Coronation music, which he is to perform, includes the Coronation marches of Sir Edward Elgar, Frederick Liffé, and the special trumpet fanfare arranged by Sir Frederick Bridge and Dr. Bouland for the Coronation, also the chorales sung at the Coronation service.

In addition to the trumpet, and the full resources of the organ, a set of cathedral chimera will be used also at the coming performance.

Needless to say, with such a combination, a magnificent ensemble will be produced. Mr. Sellers has had immense receptions in Europe, Canada and the states so far, having filled to excess with overwhelming audiences the places where he has given recitals.

Therefore, we are not likely to be behind in this respect, and a great reception will doubtless be waiting England's famous musician in this city.

The Barium & Bailey circus this season might well be called a "beauty show" for the women rule supreme throughout the program, attracting attention as much by their striking appearance as by the "stunts" they offer.

"The strong man, who used to cavort about the ring carrying heavy balls of iron, has been replaced by a woman, Kate Sandwina, billed as Europe's queen of strength, beauty and dexterity—and she lives up to the billboard promises, too. She handles a 150-pound man as easily as a Vassar girl would a tennis racket. It may be noted also that Sandwina is vice president of the "Circus Women's Equal Suffrage club," organized during the New York engagement of the circus, and including a large percentage of the women of the "sawdust and spangles."

La Belle Victoria, "the Venus of the high wire," also attracts attention by reason of her girlish charm, while Victoria Davenport, equestrienne, is another of the bevy of circus beauties. The Sibon Sisters, aerialists, and Ella Bredna, the Swiss equestrienne, further contribute to the unusual display of feminine pulchritude, which is topped off, so to say, by May Wirth, the 16-year-old Australian bareback rider, who is the sensation of this year's circus program.

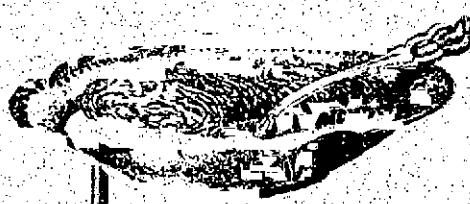

Not should the women of the ballet, presented incidental to the triumphant spectacle of "Cleopatra," pass unnoticed, for among the scores of dancing girls are many of striking charm.

In years gone by, almost since the days of old Don Rico, men have received most of the plaudits of the circus-loving public, but woman has come into her own with the circus, and now rules supreme under the white tops.

THE DAY'S NEWS IN SPORT CIRCLES

High School 'Terrors' Will Have Great Team

A majority of football fans in Colorado Springs, and especially those who keep in touch with athletic events at the High school, are of the opinion that the Terrors will work away with the intercollegiate team this fall. The Terrors will lose but three men this season while they will have a squad of more than 40 to pick from to fill the vacancies. From the outlook at present the High school will have a veteran team and one which probably will compare favorably with the smaller college eleven. Practice is scheduled to begin practically as soon as school opens.

The Terrors will have a new coach in F. A. Blair, the former Grinnell star. Little is known here as to the coaching ability of the new mentor, but with the bunch of material which he will have at his disposal he should develop the squad into a championship eleven.

In Captain Jack Taylor the High school has a man who is nearly the equal of any college player in the state. Taylor has held down left end for the team for the last three years. He is husky, fast on his feet, a sure tackler and an expert in receiving the forward pass. Taylor will be the only man on the team this fall who received his early football training under John R. Richards. The way he performed at his position last season made him a man to be feared by every team the Terrors met.

WOLGAST-RIVERS PICTURES DECIDE PUZZLING POINTS

The pictures of the Wolgast-Rivers battle, in the Vernon arena July 4, which were shown at the State yesterday and will be shown again today, give local fans the opportunity to decide for themselves the many questions which have arisen over the confusing Los Angeles mill.

However, the differences of opinion among the many people who saw the pictures yesterday is almost as great as it was at the ringside, and regardless of the number of times the films are shown, or the number of heated arguments that are indulged in, it is decidedly improbable that these various opinions ever will be changed.

To the writer the pictures show clearly that Wolgast was struck low and that Referee Welch assisted him to his feet after the little battle had fallen on top of the Mexican. It is plainly to be seen, too, that Wolgast is not the same fighter that he was before he underwent his operation.

The sensational finish comes in the thirteenth round when the men are battling at close range. Wolgast lets loose with a terrific left swing, which apparently lands well below the belt. Then, taking advantage of the ground gained, he literally holds Rivers up for a moment while he rains uppercuts on his unprotected jaw, until the Mexican sinks to the floor. As he falls Wolgast drops on top of him and lies prostrate until Referee Welch picks him up.

Rivers is counted out and Wolgast returns to his corner but hardly has time to sit down before he faints and falls through the ropes.

The pictures are decidedly clear and show every blow struck by both men. Although not taken at the close range that the Flynn-Johnson pictures are, the Wolgast-Rivers films are far better so far as genuine action is concerned, for there is hardly a moment that is slow.

and position, is nearly Taylor's equal. He is lightning fast in getting down under punts, a good tackler and an expert in receiving the forward pass. These two players form the best pair of intercollegiate wing men in the state.

Graduation robbed the Terrors of two of their stars who played under Richards, More and Hall. For years More was a tower of strength to the team as left tackle, while Hall proved to be a capable anchor man. Dick Johns, the star fullback, will be missing this fall. Johns last season was reputed to be the best intercollegiate kicker in the state. His punts averaged 45 yards, while his place kicking ability made the Terrors dangerous at any distance from 50 to 50 yards. His place will be a hard one to fill.

Towler will be back with the Brown and White, which means that the Terrors will have a kicker of the ability of John Fowler was injured in the Mines game early last season and was confined to his bed the greater part of the season. He left his bed a day or two before the great battle with Longmont and put up one of the best games ever seen on Washburn field. Local fans consider Fowler the equal of any college quarter in the state.

Other veterans who will report at the call are Holman, Rubant, Bundy, Shner, Reudy, Nifong, Sackokey, Gray, Cheese, Davis, Vaughn and many others who have played on the Terrors scrub teams.

SMOKING HARMFUL TO GOLFERS, SAYS SHERMAN

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., July 29.—Smoking while playing golf is decidedly harmful, especially to putting, is the opinion of Tom Sherman, son of Vice President Sherman, who won for the third successive year the tournament of the American Golf Association of Advertisers' Interests at Bretton Woods, N. H.

Mr. Sherman is an inveterate smoker himself, and never was seen on the course during the recent tourney without a cigar in his mouth. It is told of him that last year, when his friends threw him into the Mount Washington swimming tank in honor of his victory over Marshall Whitely of New York, in the final round he came up out of the water with the inevitable cigar still lighted and with the smoke still curling up out of his mouth.

"I regard smoking during play as decidedly harmful to a man's form and a bad practice," said Mr. Sherman at the Mount Washington. "It is much the same as in pool or billiards—you know a good pool or billiard player never will smoke during play. I don't want to be quoted as saying that golf is as delicate a game as billiards, of course, but putting is a pretty exact operation—fully as hard as a pool shot—and a little smoke in a man's eye will cost him a stroke and a hole in no time."

"Why do I smoke during play myself, then? Simply because I am in the habit of doing so, and would feel at loss without a cigar while I was playing. You notice that I never smoke a cigarette on the course—that would allow the smoke to get in my eyes. I always smoke a cigar, and keep it in the corner of my mouth—never have had any trouble from it and wouldn't know what to do without it. A pipe? Too big and unwieldy—even couldn't see the ball. Besides, a pipe is hard to keep lighted while playing. For myself, I guess I'm too addicted to my cigar to stop. If you are asking for advice, though, I will repeat that I consider smoking decidedly harmful during play and believe that no one should try to do golf and tobacco at the same time."

M'LOUGHLIN REMAINS THE WESTERN TENNIS CHAMPION

LAKE FOREST, Ill., July 29.—Western Tennis Champion Maurice E. McLaughlin of San Francisco successfully defended his title this afternoon on the courts of the Onwentsat club by defeating his challenger, Thomas C. Bundy of Los Angeles in a hard-fought set match 6-1, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4.

At the outset it was apparent that the two Pacific coast experts were about evenly matched. Both had their services working superbly, and the brilliant net work play of McLaughlin was equaled by the previous returns and the accurate placing by Bundy. An endurance contest began, which ended only when, with the count 8-7 against him, Bundy braced and won the next three games and the set, 10-8.

As a result of the drawings for the preliminary national doubles, which will start tomorrow afternoon, William J. Clothier, Jr., of Philadelphia, and George E. Gardner, Jr., of Boston, will meet Walter T. Hayes and J. H. Winston of Chicago, and Maurice McLaughlin and T. C. Bundy of Los Angeles will oppose E. Y. Smith and Nat Thornton of Atlanta. The victorious team will play Little and Tinsward, the present holders in the challenge round, August 20, at Newport, R. I.

"I'll Never Draw on a Glove Again," Says Jack Johnson

CHICAGO, July 29.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, announced tonight that he had fought his last fight.

"I'll never draw on a glove again as long as I live," declared the champion, as he lounged in a large upholstered chair in his new cafe. "The promoters won't give me my price for fighting now, and if I wait a year, I'll probably not be in condition to put up a fight worthy of a champion. So, it's good-bye to John Arthur Johnson, champion of the world."

Asked if he intended to retire in favor of any fighter, as Jeffries did in the case of Marvin Hart, Johnson said:

"No; let Jeannette, Langford and McVey fight it out. I think McVey will thrash any of them, but that is their trouble, not mine. No white fighter can give any of these men a good battle."

Johnson has saved his money. He said tonight that he was worth $200,000, the greater part of which is well invested.

Middleweights?

NEW YORK, July 29.—There ain't such a thing as a middleweight fighter any more," mumbled Battling Elmer, the Broadway philosopher, last evening, "and the fellows that's maskarading as claimers for the title would be arrested and sent to jail if they was any law in this state."

"Ever since Stanley Ketchel took the long and final count, the poor middleweight division has been an orphan. It ain't got no mother, it ain't got no father, and, to be on the level, it ain't got nobody to give it a care. Pretty sad case, ain't it?"

"Now, jest think. Here comes Frank Klaus and Jack Dillon from the coast, where they was 'goin' to put the boots to them, and they poses as champions. They fight at Madison Square Garden. Most of the patrons who spent money to see that show are going to sue for the return of the coin. They're middleweights, all right, but not middleweight fighters."

"Then Billy Papke comes here after graduating into the has-been class and tells us that he's now right and fit to defend the crown. All I has to say to the bunch is to keep mum or some lightweights will give them a beating."

It certainly looks as if the Battler's dops is correct. Middleweights are now a drug on the market. They have been tried for several years, and, with the exception of one or two, have been found wanting. There is more action and excitement in two lightweights or two featherweights boxing than in all the middleweight division thrown together. Some day, a real good middleweight may boom up. Let's hope so.

He too had Mike Gibbons doesn't weigh eight pounds more and save the middleweight division from dissolution.

Joe Patchen II Is an Unbeaten Pacer

CLEVELAND, O., July 29.—The opening of the Grand Circuit races at the North Randall track today was witnessed by a large crowd, but the achievements of the horses were disappointing as to time. Last night a heavy rainfall impaired the track.

The event of the day was the Edwads stake, 2-12 pace, purse $3,000, best three in five heats. Joe Patchen II picked as an almost certain winner, took the race in straight heats, sustaining his reputation as an unbeaten pacer. Knight Onwardo made the most gallant attempt to head the big bay, coming up from far back in the last 100 yards of the first heat and giving Patchen a rub.

Patchen's first heat was made in 2:07, the fastest of the day.

The numerous field of entrants for the Tavern "steak" with amateur drivers was put into three divisions, thus giving the $5,000 stake into four places, $1,000 for each division and $2,000 for a race royal on Friday.

The Edwads stake, 2-12 pace, purse $3,000, 3 in 5—Joe Patchen, first, Knight Onwardo, second; Chimes Hal, third; Pearl Patch, fourth. Best time 2:07.

Tavern "steak" first division, purse $1,000, 2-14 trotting, 2 in 3—The Wanderer, first; Tommy Finch, second; Aronama Kinney, Ernest Axtell and Lord White divided third and fourth money. Best time 2:11-1-4.

Tavern "steak," 2-14 trot, $1,000, second division—Eather W. von, Dersch Medium, second; Castle Dome, third; Dave Halle, fourth. Best time 2:05-4.

Here's a Good One

The following is a press agent's yarn but it's a good one and worth repeating.

"When Phil Cross first started in at the fighting game he had to sidestep the wrath of the mother of a certain dark-haired little party down on the east side of New York city. The 'certain party' didn't care—in fact, she wanted her hero to whip the world. But her mother said, 'Box fighting is no business.'

"The day after one of his battles, Phil appeared at the fair one's home. He was timid and carried along his brother Sammy. They encountered the girl's mother at the door, and Phil hung his head to hide, a cut over his right eye. But it was no use.

"So you have been box-fighting again," said the girl's mother.

"No," stammered Phil. "I didn't get this cut fighting."

Then how did you get it?" demanded his inquisitor.

Phil looked at Sam appealingly.

"He bit himself," said Sam.

"Yes that how," affirmed Phil.

"What?" shouted the woman. How could he bite himself over the eye?"

With a sigh, he stood on a chair, said Sam.

The decision was awarded to Phil and Sam on principle.

Films of Lightweight Battle Make Money

By W. W. NAUGHTON.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—It is very evident that sporting critics, unlike doctors, do not hold consultations in reference to the "cases" that come under their observation. If they did, no doubt there would be more unanimity of opinion in respect to the merits of contests and competitions of various characters.

That sporting writers should view boxing matches and other events from different standpoints is as it should be. A wise head once said, "It's a difference of opinion that makes horse races," and what is true of the sport of the turf is true of everything else in the sporting line. Without difference of opinion there would be no occasion to arrange tests of skill, speed or endurance. There would be a total lack of interest in everything relating to competition. There would be no "sporting situation," in fact.

There is one thing, however, that a sport critic should beware of, and that is insisting his view of a contest is the only possible and correct one. He should qualify whatever opinions he writes with the remark, "this may not be the right analysis, but it's the way it looked to me." For no matter what respect his opinion commands, he can only exercise individual judgment.

It is doubtful if there were ever a brace of pugilist happenings that caused more difference of opinion among the workmen of the press than the two world's championships on the Fourth of July. Those who held that Jack Johnson had showed no decline in fighting ability were fairly well paired with the critics who noted—or thought they noted—a vast difference in the Johnson of Reno and the Johnson of Las Vegas.

Champion Shows Signs of Wear.

The writer takes his stand with those who believe that Johnson tires more readily and is a less formidable puncher than he used to be. I have seen Johnson in every contest of note he has figured in in this country since he defeated Frank Childs at Los Angeles nearly 11 years ago, and am, therefore, in a fairly good position to judge of his present fighting prowess. Incidentally, Johnson is one of the hardest men in the fighting world to get a line on. He is such a consummate ring general and everything he does within the ropes is done so artistically, that it is anything but easy to tell when he is in trouble.

In the affair with Flynn he held on and stalled around with a grin on his face and with no particular appearance of being flustered, but he was an exceedingly tired champion of the world just the same. If he had been the Johnson of other fights, instead of looking hangry-eyed at Referee Smith when Flynn began butting, he would have broken his hold and punched Flynn clear across the ropes.

The different views held in regard to the Johnson-Flynn match were not a circumstance, however, to the confusions of opinions that existed at the

Mike Gibbons Would Like to Engage Middleweights

NEW YORK, July 29.—When Mike Gibbons returns to this city in the fall he expects to be ready to fire the opening gun of a campaign to obtain recognition as the middleweight champion of the world. Before Gibbons left for his home in St. Paul he informed a friend that his object was not only to obtain a needed rest, but to build himself up so that he would be able to meet the McGorty's, Klauses and Mohas at something like equal terms as regards weight. If he can succeed in acquiring a few more pounds he will drop all pretense of being a welterweight and meet all comers at the 155-pound limit.

There seems to be no particular reason why the St. Paul phantom should not pick up a few more pounds. He has just turned 34 years of age, and, having barely ceased to grow in height, can now be expected to take on flesh. At the present time he scales at 151, ringside, although he can do 145 in the afternoon.

Even at his present weight there are many who think he could outpoint an

of the prominent middleweights in 10-round bout. But in a long distance fight his lack of weight might be to great a handicap. And championships are not won in 10-round no decision affairs. When Gibbons goes after the title the chances are he will succeed.

He is one of the most careful match-makers in the ring, and the announcement that he has signed for a fight means that he is absolutely sure of winning.

It is this careful trait that has kept him from accepting one of the large purses offered him to meet Eddie Mc

Gorty or Frank Klaus. He realizes that he can beat either of these mean. With Gibbons in the lists as a middleweight the present condensed sin-

Wolgast-Rivers ringside. It used to be said that a man interested in boxing did not have to attend a fight to gain an idea of what happened—that he could read all the accounts of the affair and strike an average. Anyone who could follow this course in the Los Angeles mill would have to be possessed of highly analytical mentality.

Whether Wolgast struck his opponent foul or fair; whether River downed Wolgast with a chin crack or a smash in the pit, whether Wolgast fell athwart Rivers' knee, and whether Rivers was short counted, are points that will be argued for many a day to come.

Some of the opinions held are so positive, in fact, that they would no surprise the writer to hear of some capricious critic taking issue with the moving pictures on the score that they did not give a faithful portrayal of the closing scenes of the lightweight championship.

Pictures Tell the Story.

It all means good business for the shadowgraphs of both mills, probably for where there are points in dispute, the average sport likes to take in the pictures and judge for himself.

One of the interested spectators at the Rivers-Wolgast contest was Willie Ritchie, the San Francisco lad who gave Wolgast such a hard time of it in a four-round bout in this city a couple of months ago. Ritchie thinks that there is a return match between Wolgast and Rivers the champion will win out to a certainty. He says the Rivers' punches did not hurt Wolgast whereas every blow Ad landed made the Mexican wince.

"At that, I do not think Wolgast showed either the speed or the punching power he displayed when he fought me," said Ritchie. "I will move heaven and earth to secure a bout for the championship with Wolgast, and if there is any hitch in the arrangement with Rivers, I think I will stand good chance of getting the match. am very earnest about this, and to show my sincerity, am willing to bet my little accumulations on the result. I have not much—a few thousand dollars—but the instant Wolgast evinces a willingness to sign, I will be prepared to wager all I possess on the outcome. The only stipulation I make is that the money be placed at the odds which prevail when the date of the fight is close at hand. I think this is only fair."

There are any number who consider Ritchie as anything a more formidable opponent than Rivers for Wolgast. It is even hinted that the champion is the same way of thinking, and has said: "Get Rivers for me. Ritchie can wait."

If the Rivers-Wolgast bout goes through it is likely that Ritchie will be signed by one of the coast promoters for a match with Knockout Brown or New York or some other likely lightweight, the idea being to have a challenger for the winner of the Wolgast-Rivers affair.

WOLGAST'S PRICE TO MEET

PACKEY NOW IS $22,500

CHICAGO, July 29.—Ad Wolgast's demands for meeting Packey McFarland 10 rounds in New York are going up. Before leaving for Cadillac, Mich., today, he told Emil Thirt, Packey's manager, that he would fight the stock yards pugilist at 155 pounds at 3 o'clock, either September 20 or 27 for $22,500.

A few days ago Wolgast said he would fight McFarland for $20,000 and last night at one time he said a purse of $15,000 would satisfy him. He agreed today, however, to waive the picture rights if given $22,500.

CLAIRVOYANTS

MME. DIANA

Spiritual medium, palmist and mediator of secret influence, and the only that ever appeared before the London Occult Society, and received their endorsement. She will give greater proofs of her power, more satisfaction, more help, more facts, than any clairvoyant ever met. Help you to gain your business or worried what they are.

IF IN TROUBLE, OR WORRIED—marriage, business, love, divorce, bad influences, you better call at once and receive facts which will open your eyes to problems you never believed in. She calls you by name and tells you your trouble better than you can. Look at it.

807 COLO. AVE., COLO. CITY

Take Manitou car to Eighth street; small sign. Hours 10 to 8 daily.

PROF. OCTAVE, natural, born clairvoyant and psychic palmist, here, located at 207 East Huertano St., where he may be consulted on all affairs of the heart, mind, body and future. He never asks you a question, tells exactly what you called for, all about your business affairs, your love and domestic affairs, when and when to make friends and enemies, dates, facts and figures. Do not compare him with others who have been here, as his standard is far superior. Special low fee for a few days. Hours 9 a. m. to 8 daily. Also Sunday, 207 East Huertano St., Colorado Springs.

MRS. SAMPSON, noted psychic, readings daily; meeting Sunday and Thursday evening. Prices within reach of all. Rooms 14-15 Barnes Bldg., 1134 Pike Peak.

PROF. DANLEY—PALMIST AND CLAIRVOYANT, 3254 Colorado Ave., Colorado City; half rates until August; satisfaction guaranteed; call today.

SPIRITUAL, meetings, Sun. and Thurs. 8 o'clock; readings daily. Mrs. Wheeler, No. 8 Sheldon and Lincoln, opp. Longfellow school, Colorado City.

GRADUATE OSTEOPATH

DRS. KLEIN & COULSON, graduates Still's college, Kirksville, Mo., 601-3-5 E. Nat'l Bank Bldg. General practice. Specialties: rheumatism, constipation, gotters, nervous diseases. Eleven years' practice. Office and res. phones. Hours, 8-12, 1-5, 7-9. We show individuality. Charge for our services. All treatments are specific, thus insuring a maximum of results in the shortest time.

DR. G. W. PAULY and Lona E. Pauly, graduates Still's college, Kirksville, Mo. G. W. Pauly, offices at 201-203-205-207 DeGraff Bldg., 118 N. Tejon St. Phone Main 1701, and Lona E. Pauly, 1352 N. Nevada. Address: Phone Main 956. As treatments progress like lessons, it is best that each have separate patients and practices. Come in and we will show you to your satisfaction what has caused your trouble.

DR. J. P. O. GIVENS and LAURA E. GIVENS, graduates under Dr. A. T. Still, the founder of osteopathy, charge all our cases, and those of women and children given special attention; calls answered day or night. Office over "Busy Corner." Phone: Office, Main 2942; residence, Main 1210.
